Terms

"We", "Us", "Data Controller" are your GP practice.

"You" is the patient

"Third party" or "Data Processor" is Healthtech-1

Conditions and Privacy

To receive healthcare from the NHS 'You' must complete a New Patient Registration Form, this can be done online or in person at the practice. So 'We' can provide you with the best care 'We' ask for more information than required to register 'You' as a patient. In order to support the timely and accurate processing of your online Patient Registration Form 'We' use third parties to process your data.

Practice Boundary

We are at liberty to choose whether to register patients inside and outside of our practice boundary. If 'We' choose to register patients outside of our practice boundary area, those patients will have a restricted set of services. For example, 'We' will not provide home visits. This is to prevent our staff from being obliged to travel long distances.

Providing an NHS Number

When registering it is important that 'You' provide your NHS number. This number is used to locate your medical record. Without this number, there is a high chance the practice will experience delays in receiving your medical record, and it can even be lost.

For patients registering from outside of England, your medical record will not be electronically transferred. If 'You' are from Scotland, Wales or Northern Ireland by providing your NHS number, 'We' will be able to receive a physical copy of your medical record, which can be manually summarised into an electronic record.

You can find your NHS number using the following NHS service: https://www.nhs.uk/nhs-services/online-services/find-nhs-number/

Your first GP

If this is your first GP and 'You' do NOT have an NHS number, 'You' will be asked to provide evidence of your identity. One of the following documents as proof of ID. It is not mandatory to provide these to be registered:

- Passport
- UK Driving Licence
- Home Office Card with Photo
- Birth Certificate (in English) for children under 16 years old.
- For children under 6 years old, please bring Red Book or Immunisation Record.

We are a Safer Surgery. This means that 'We' are committed to providing equal access to our services for everyone in our practice area, regardless of their immigration status. This is in line with our duties under NHS England guidelines for GP registration and informed by our knowledge of the barriers to healthcare faced by migrants in vulnerable circumstances.

Registration Refusal

To protect the wellbeing of our practice staff, 'We' will not be registering patients that have in the past breached the Zero Tolerance Policy and as a result had been removed from the Practice Register. You can find our Zero Tolerance Policy on our website.

Third Parties

'We' use a third party to process your registration quickly, and to ensure 'We' have the greatest chance at locating your medical record. Accordingly we've asked Healthtech-1, to process your personal and sensitive data with the purpose of improving your registration experience in both speed and accuracy. 'We' are the Data Controller, and Healthtech-1 is the Data Processor.

This means that 'We' (the practice) instruct the Data Processor on what data is processed and how this will be done. This role is undertaken in accordance with the General Data Protection Regularly (GDPR) and the Data Protection Act 2018.

For all requests regarding the control of your data, please contact the GP practice.

The purposes of the processing

To deliver GP practice services that are required by law. We've instructucted, the Data Processor process your data to enable the online registration process to be completed. As a Controller, 'We' need to collect this information to safely register 'You' as a patient, and receive electronic copies of your GP notes from your previous practice.

The lawful basis for the processing

Providing services for:

- the provision of health care or treatment
- the management of health care systems or services or social care systems or services

The lawful basis lies within Article 6 of the UK GDPR.:

6(1)(e) Public task: the processing is necessary for 'You' to perform a task in the public interest or for your official functions, and the task or function has a clear basis in law.

The lawful basis of processing special category data lies within Article 9 of the UK GDPR:

9(2)(h) '…medical diagnosis, the provision of health or social care or treatment or the management of health or social care systems…'

Here's a helpful document provided by the ICO.

Additionally in Data Protection Act 2018 (Schedule 10, 8. Medical Purposes (1,b)):
Medical purposes:

8(1)The processing is necessary for medical purposes and is undertaken by—
(a) a health professional, or
(b) a person who in the circumstances owes a duty of confidentiality which is equivalent to that which would arise if that person were a health professional.

In this paragraph, "medical purposes" includes the purposes of preventative medicine, medical diagnosis, medical research, the provision of care and treatment and the management of healthcare services.

The legitimate interests for the processing

The provision of healthcare or treatment and the management of health or social care systems and services.

The categories of personal data obtained

A summary of the data is provided here, but please see all data fields collected listed in the appendix below.

Personal data: name, address, date of birth, contact information e.g. telephone number.

Special category data: ethnicity, gender identity

The recipients or categories of recipients of the personal data

We use other organisations to either store personal information or use it to help deliver our services to you:

- The provider of the automated patient registration service, the Data Processor.
- The Integrated Care Boards (ICBs) who fund the service and the Department of Health (including Public Health England) can receive anonymised data only. These reports include anonymised data and therefore do not include identifiable personal data such as: your name, date of birth, contact details, or full address.

'We' the controller (the GP practice) and the Data Processor have an agreement in place to make sure that the organisations that your data is shared with comply with data protection law.

Sometimes there is a legal duty to provide personal information to other organisations.

There may also be occasions that your personal information is shared, when 'We' or the Data Processor consider/believe that there is a good reason to do so, which is more important than protecting your privacy. This doesn't happen often, but in these circumstances your information may be shared:

- to find and stop crime and fraud,
- if there are serious risks to the public, our staff or to other professionals,
- to protect a child,
- to protect adults who are thought to be at risk, for example if they are frail, confused or cannot understand what is happening to them.

For all these reasons, the risk must be serious before 'We' can override your right to privacy.

If in providing this service the practice, or the Data Processor are worried about your physical safety or feel they need to take action to protect 'You' from being harmed in other ways, they will discuss this with 'You' and, if possible, get your permission to tell others about your situation before doing so.

The Data Processor may still share your information if they believe the risk to others is serious enough to do so.

If this is the case, the Data Processor will make sure that a record of what information is shared and the reasons for doing so. We will let 'You' know what 'We' have done and why, if 'We' think it is safe to do so.

The details of transfers of your personal data to any third countries or international organisations

The majority of your personal data is stored on secure servers in the UK only. However, limited personal data is processed outside of the UK (in the EU and US) in order to communicate with 'You' via text message and email. This international transfer of data is compliant with UK GDPR (Appendix B) .

The retention periods for the personal data

In line with national clinical guidelines (page 54), your online registration record (registration form) will be retained by the practice for a minimum of 6 years after the last recorded entry. As standard your online registration from will be kept for 10 years e.g. your last data entry was 1 January 2018, your personal information will be automatically deleted from the form on the 1 January 2028.

If 'You' are aged 16 or 17 years old, your online registration form will be retained for 10 years after your 18th birthday. For example if your last data entry is 1 January 2018 and your 18th birthday is 1 February 2018 then your data will be deleted on 1 February 2028. After that point, your personal identifying information (e.g. name, house number, street name, telephone number and email) will be removed from your registration from only to provide an anonymised data set for statistical and research purposes only.

The Data Processor will only hold your personal information for as long as it is necessary to fulfil their legal duties or business purposes. If 'You' register at another GP practice using the same Data Processor the 10 year period will be refreshed. This is based on national guidance. You can still register without agreeing to these terms, by visiting the GP practice and completing a paper registration form. 'We' can ask the Data Processor to delete your personal data at any time, and the Data Processor will do this automatically if 'We' cease to use their services.

The rights available to individuals in respect of the processing

The law gives 'You' a number of rights in relation to what personal information 'We' use. These rights are listed below.

After confirming your identity, 'You' can ask 'Us' to provide 'You' with:

- a copy of the personal information that 'We' hold about 'You' (Subject Access Request) within 1 month free of change with
- correct personal information about 'You' which 'You' think is inaccurate
- delete personal information about 'You' if 'You' think 'We' should no longer be using it
- stop using your personal information if 'You' think it is wrong, until it is corrected
- transfer your personal information to another provider in a commonly used format

- review automated decision-making processes that have been used to make decisions about you.

The right to withdraw consent and the right to erasure do not apply due to the nature of the services being provided and the basis in law for processing this data. 'We', as the controller of your data, will consider requests to remove personal identifying information from your record. Your rights may exercised via the Data Processor.

The source of the personal data

The personal data provided by 'You' when completing an online registration form, in the first instance is held by the Data Processor. If 'You' subsequently contact 'Us' via reception or the phone to register as a patient, 'We' will inform the Data Processor of that attendance so that they can be sure that 'You' have not been lost to care. No further details will be shared with the "Data Processor". If 'You' communicate with the Data Processor directly they will record the advice and support that they have provided to 'You'.

The details of automated decision-making, including profiling

The Data Processor uses automated decision-making to verify your identity, and your address to broker out of catchment area registrations. Automated decision-making, based on national clinical guidelines is also used to determine whether the online service is clinically appropriate for your individual circumstances. If the automated decision-making process determines that 'You' are unsuitable for the automated patient registration (e.g. a child registering without a person of parental responsibility registered at the practice), 'You' can visit the practice to complete your patient registration.

No profiling is undertaken, and 'We' have no plans to do so. Profiling would only ever be used to help 'Us' to fulfil our duties under the Equality Act 2010 in advancing equality of opportunity between people who share a protected characteristic and people who do not share it.

The right to lodge a complaint with a supervisory authority

For independent advice about data protection, privacy and data sharing issues, 'You' can contact the Information Commissioner's Office (ICO) at:

Information Commissioner's Office

Wycliffe House, Water Lane

Wilmslow, Cheshire

SK9 5AF

Tel: 0303 123 1113 (local rate) or 01625 545 745 if 'you' prefer to use a national rate number.

Full list of data points collected and stored by sub-processors outside of the UK. A full sub-processor list can be made available on request.

These data points are used to send personalised messaging (text and email) to patients. Examples include but are not limited to:

1) sending a confirmation of form receipt email
2) sending welcome emails with their new GP's details
3) asking for more documentation because 'We' are their first GP
4) suggesting that patients fill in the medical form
5) telling parents about their child's registration
6) fulfil patient requests. E.g. with wantsSmokingAdvice, 'We' send them a link to a local smoking cessation advice resource
